DESCRIPTION

Second-Year Italian I is the gateway to a high-level and lifelong proficiency in Italian. This course will begin by revisiting and reviewing many of the structure topics covered in Italian 201 and 203, in order to solidify the students' knowledge and proficiency in Italian. We will then continue by introducing the most complex grammatical and syntactical structures, making sure that the students are able to communicate their ideas with precision and accuracy. This course aims to cement the links between grammatical structures, vocabulary, socio-linguistic competency, as well as the four basic linguistic skills: writing, speaking, listening, and reading. Attention will be given to extended conversation practice, in-class discussions, and presentations. A key component of this class will be an increasing engagement with Italian culture through readings, videos and films.

OBJECTIVES

The aims of this course are manifold:

- To review grammatical structures learned in ITAL 201 and 203
- To Introduce new grammatical structures
- To learn how to express complex opinions and referring other people's opinion
- To learn how to accurately convey desires, wishes, and doubts
- To learn how to express abstract hypothesis
- To refine speaking and oral pronunciation
- To improve written Italian skills by learning how to construct complex paragraphs and how to connect them in order to write a reflective essay
- To become familiar with contemporary Italian Culture and with Italian Films, Videos, short stories.

OUTCOMES

By the end of this course the students will be able to:

Speaking:

- Communicate their ideas at an intermediate level of proficiency and express complex opinions on Italian Culture
- Present Orally in Class on a cultural topic of their choice, ask and answer pertinent questions, defending their thesis and sustaining a dialog.

COURSE NOTES

The course will be conducted entirely in Italian. Welcome to Italy!

- Regular attendance is strongly recommended. Active participation is warmly encouraged. Active participation is defined as coming to class prepared and ready to give active and positive contributions in Italian to class interactions and tutorial sessions. Lack of attendance or of participation will adversely affect your overall performance and will have a negative impact on your final grade. The instructor should be informed of any reasons for prolonged absence. Attendance to co-curricular events is encouraged in order to have more occasions to practice your language skills.
- Students are strongly encouraged to communicate consistently on the target language and to attend IL CIRCOLINO (CHC 318) to practice Italian.
- Attendance at all tests and examinations is mandatory. Missed tests, assignments and examinations will be given a grade of F. A student who is absent from a test for legitimate reasons must inform the instructor immediately and an alternative course of action may be considered.
- Tutorials will start the week of September ...
- The using of electronic devices (such as cell phones) in class is not allowed unless you need them for specific learning purposes. A student who needs special arrangements is invited to please inform the instructor immediately.
- Assignments have to be submitted in class, printed (electronic submission of assignments will not normally be accepted).
- Written assignments should be completely original. Students are encouraged to use a good Italian dictionary, but please refrain from using on-line translation website. The using of on-line translation websites such as Google translate is detrimental to students' learning.
- The Department's drop-box, located in the foyer area of the third floor in Craigie Hall between blocks D and C, is available for depositing assignments and course work. The material placed in the drop-box will be collected and date-stamped at the beginning and at the end of the working day.
- During the course we will watch and discuss in class two classic Italian films and one Italian Opera, Il barbiere di Siviglia.
- The topic of the final project will be decided by the students and discussed with the instructor. It should involve researching an aspect of Italian culture particularly interesting to the student.

- There will not be a final examination.

ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT

1. Plagiarism is a serious offence, the penalty for which is an F on the assignment and possibly also an F in the course, academic probation, or requirement to withdraw. Plagiarism exists when:

- a) the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test);
- b) parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author;
- c) the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or
- d) a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted." Plagiarism occurs not only when direct quotations are taken from a source without specific acknowledgement but also when original ideas or data from the source are not acknowledged. A bibliography is insufficient to establish which portions of the student's work are taken from external sources; footnotes or other recognized forms of citation must be used for this purpose.

2. Cheating at tests or examinations includes but is not limited to dishonest or attempted dishonest conduct such as speaking to other candidates or communicating with them under any circumstances whatsoever; bringing into the examination room any textbook, notebook, memorandum, other written material or mechanical or electronic device not authorized by the examiner; writing an examination or part of it, or consulting any person or materials outside the confines of the examination room without permission to do so, or leaving answer papers exposed to view, or persistent attempts to read other students' examination papers.

3. Other academic misconduct includes, but is not limited to, tampering or attempts to tamper with examination scripts, class work, grades and/or class records; failure to abide by directions by an instructor regarding the individuality of work handed in; the acquisition, attempted acquisition, possession, and/or distribution of examination materials or information not authorized by the instructor; the impersonation of another student in an examination or other class assignment; the falsification or fabrication of clinical or laboratory reports; the non-authorized tape recording of lectures.

4. Any student who voluntarily and consciously aids another student in the commission of one of these offences is also guilty of academic misconduct.

DISABILITIES AND ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATION

WRITING ACROSS THE CURRICULUM

Writing skills should cross all disciplines. Students are expected to do a substantial amount of writing in their courses and, where appropriate, instructors can and should use writing and the grading thereof as a factor in the evaluation of student work. The services provided by the Writing Centre in the Effective Writing Office (<http://www.efwr.ucalgary.ca/>) can be utilized by all undergraduate and graduate students who feel they require further assistance.
