DESCRIPTION and OBJECTIVES

This course is a continuation of JPNS301. This course covers Lesson 18 - 23 of the textbook, Genki II. Through a variety of activities, students will learn how to express their own ideas and to use the language creatively both orally and in writing.

- Further acquisition of Japanese characters, and the development of conversational skills through reading and discussion of selected Japanese texts.
- Structural analysis of normal speech patterns.
- Preparation of written assignments.

JPNS 333 offers further practical communication practice to build students' ability to converse and discuss on a wide range of topics. In addition to refining communication skills developed in the beginners' level courses, students will develop all four-language skills (speaking, listening, reading and writing) at intermediate level.

Prerequisites: Japanese 301 or consent of the School.

[Note] All university-level prerequisites for Japanese language courses must be met with a grade of "C-" or better.

OUTCOMES

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to: 1) demonstrate correct usage of basic and intermediate grammar, including potential and volitional forms of verbs, noun modifications, conditionals and some conjectures; 2) comprehend conversations on familiar topics spoken in a natural speed; 3) show some cultural knowledge through register, content, gestures, language or behavior; 4) read and write 79 new kanji; 5) write coherent paragraphs.

DISTRIBUTION OF GRADES

Tests / Quizzes	50%
Oral & Writing Tests	30%
Projects	10%

ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT

1. Plagiarism is a serious offence, the penalty for which is an F on the assignment and possibly also an F in the course, academic probation, or requirement to withdraw. Plagiarism exists when:

- a) the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test);
- b) parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author;
- c) the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or
- d) a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted."

Plagiarism occurs not only when direct quotations are taken from a source without specific acknowledgement but also when original ideas or data from the source are not acknowledged. A bibliography is insufficient to establish which portions of the student's work are taken from external sources; footnotes or other recognized forms of citation must be used for this purpose.

2. Cheating at tests or examinations includes but is not limited to dishonest or attempted dishonest conduct such as speaking to other candidates or communicating with them under any circumstances whatsoever; bringing into the examination room any textbook, notebook, memorandum, other written material or mechanical or electronic device not authorized by the examiner; writing an examination or part of it, or consulting any person or materials outside the confines of the examination room without permission to do so, or leaving answer papers exposed to view, or persistent attempts to read other students' examination papers.

3. Other academic misconduct includes, but is not limited to, tampering or attempts to tamper with examination scripts, class work, grades and/or class records; failure to abide by directions by an instructor regarding the individuality of work handed in; the acquisition, attempted acquisition, possession, and/or distribution of examination materials or information not authorized by the instructor; the impersonation of another student in an examination or other class assignment; the falsification or fabrication of clinical or laboratory reports; the non-authorized tape recording of lectures.

4. Any student who voluntarily and consciously aids another student in the commission of one of these offences is also guilty of academic misconduct.

WRITING ACROSS THE CURRICULUM

Writing skills should cross all disciplines. Students are expected to do a substantial amount of writing in their courses and, where appropriate, instructors can and should use writing and the grading thereof as a factor in the evaluation of student work. The services provided by the Writing Centre in the Effective Writing Office (<http://www.efwr.ucalgary.ca/>) can be utilized by all undergraduate and graduate students who feel they require further assistance.
