DESCRIPTION

A comprehensive course for students with no prior knowledge of Spanish, focused on listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills having to do with immediate needs in everyday situations. Emphasis on intercultural awareness of Spanish-speaking cultures.

OBJECTIVES

By the end of the course, students will increase their skills in listening comprehension, speaking, reading, writing, and cultural awareness and will be able to:

1. Exchange essential information in basic oral and written conversations and presentations.
2. Read and understand short, simple texts.
3. Write simple paragraphs about themselves and others.
4. Demonstrate limited control of the present indicative tense.
5. Demonstrate awareness of Spanish-speaking cultures.

OUTCOMES

Outcomes in language courses are usually measured in terms of five basic skills:

Listening: You will understand, at least partially, audio and video material such as that which accompanies the textbook. However, in a simple face-to-face conversation, misunderstanding of both the main ideas and details can still arise on a fairly regular basis.

Speaking: You will be able to ask and answer simple questions using a very limited vocabulary concerning immediate surroundings; you are able to introduce yourself and talk about likes and dislikes, express plans and obligations and talk about everyday activities. However, you are not able to engage effectively in prolonged interactions with native speakers.

Reading: You will be able to understand the main ideas in simple authentic material (brochures, advertisement, schedules, and short newspaper articles) and to extract information from them by applying some reading strategies (identifying cognates, scanning, dealing with unfamiliar words, predicting, and activating background knowledge).

Writing: You will be able to write simple texts, such as e-mails, complete sentences and short paragraphs descriptions, to give information about yourself and to describe and narrate events grounded in personal experience.

Culture: You are able to understand some of the significant differences between Hispanic cultures and your own culture, in terms of behavior, attitudes, and values. You have an awareness of language as an essential element of culture.

School of Languages, Linguistics, Literatures and Cultures

These outcomes align with the three modes of communication, which will be emphasized in this course:

- Interpretive (listening and reading)
- Interpersonal (conversational speaking and writing)
- Presentational (prepared speaking and writing)

- Guidelines for submitting assignments, and expectations for writing quality: All assignments must be submitted on D2L and/or through the textbook’s online platform by the assigned deadline. The use of online translators is not permitted, and any assignments which utilize a translator will result in a grade of zero for that assignment. Instead, use what you have learned in the textbook and use an online dictionary.
- Policy in case of missed or late assignments: If individual circumstances may prevent a student from meeting a course deadline, it is the student’s responsibility to contact the instructor as soon as possible if the student wishes to request credit for any missed online activities.
- Attendance and participation: Your attendance is expected. In order for you to do well in the course and learn Spanish, you must participate actively in every session. This includes the lab as well. Some class sessions may be offered asynchronously, and if so you will be given plenty of notice of this along with deadlines to complete the work on your own at home.
- Class etiquette: Please show up on time to class and leave when class ends. Participate actively in the course and follow the instructions of your instructor. If the class session is asynchronous, please follow the instructions provided and meet all deadlines.
- Guidelines for Zoom meetings and use of technology during class: Please give your full attention to the class and follow the instructions set out by your instructor. Participate actively, appropriately and respectfully in all class discussions whether out loud or via chat including in the Zoom breakout rooms and when completing group projects. Please show up on time to class and leave when class ends. Turn your camera on at the beginning of class and wear appropriate clothing. Turn your camera off and mute when asked. Use the raise hand function in Zoom if you have a question or type it in the chat.

ASSESSMENT

Active Participation and homework: 10%
Individual Small Projects (written and oral) (5 x 5%): 25%
Chapter Tests (5 x 7%): 35%
Cultural Activities (5 X 2%) 10%
Hola Pass (1 activity in the Spanish Centre): 10%
Tutorials/Labs (10 sessions): 10%
Total: 100%

There will be no final exam in this course.

Active participation and homework: Participating fully in the Zoom sessions and completing all activities for any asynchronous sessions is expected. Class sessions are the primary venue for practicing and speaking Spanish, and speaking is one of the skills that this course develops. As such, regular attendance and participation are key to success in this course. Participation includes joining the Zoom session, following instructions given, speaking up during discussions and during activities in breakout rooms, and volunteering to ask and answer questions. Each instructor will provide guidelines on how to participate fully. Failure to abide by the Zoom class etiquette and guidelines listed above will result in a deduction to the participation grade. Each instructor will provide instructions for homework assignments. Homework assignments must be completed by the deadline and could involve but are not limited to D2L quizzes (for practice), audio/video recordings, listening practice, vocabulary practice, and grammar practice.

Chapter Tests: At the end of each chapter, a quiz will be completed in D2L that will involve, reading, writing, listening, vocabulary and grammar. You may use your textbook when taking these quizzes. Do not use an online translator. Do not consult with any other individuals.

Cultural Activities: These will accompany each chapter and will involve responding to the prompt in the D2L discussion forum in order to delve deeper into the cultural concepts presented in each chapter.

Individual Small Projects: These 5 small projects accompany each of the 5 chapters and offer a chance to speak or write what has been taught in each chapter. The projects will be posted in the D2L discussion forum or turned in via the D2L Dropbox. More instructions will be provided for each project.

Hola Pass: This activity, based on topics covered in the course, will take approximately 20 minutes of your time and will be completed in the Spanish Centre (via Zoom) between Sept. 30 and Nov 25 (final deadline, no extensions). During the second week of classes, you will be emailed the Zoom link and it will also be posted on D2L. Each section will attend during a specific time. Active participation is required and the Coordinator, Gabriela Iturriza, will send the report of your performance to your instructor at the end of this semester. Starting Sept 16, you are encouraged to visit the Spanish Center (via Zoom) to clarify doubts, practice Spanish with the coordinator and other students, and/or to prepare for the Hola Pass activity.

INTEGRITY AND CONDUCT

All members of the University community have a responsibility to familiarize themselves with the Statement on Principles of Conduct, and to comply with the University of Calgary Code of Conduct and Non-Academic Misconduct policy and procedures (available at: <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html>).

Academic misconduct

1. Plagiarism is a serious offence, the penalty for which is an F on the assignment and possibly also an F in the course, academic probation, or requirement to withdraw. Plagiarism exists when:

a) the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test);

b) parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author;

c) the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or

d) a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted."

Plagiarism occurs not only when direct quotations are taken from a source without specific acknowledgement but also when original ideas or data from the source are not acknowledged. A bibliography is insufficient to establish which portions of the student's work are taken from external sources; footnotes or other recognized forms of citation must be used for this purpose.

2. Cheating at tests or examinations includes but is not limited to dishonest or attempted dishonest conduct such as speaking to other candidates or communicating with them under any circumstances whatsoever; bringing into the examination room any textbook, notebook, memorandum, other written material or mechanical or electronic device not authorized by the examiner; writing an examination or part of it, or consulting any person or materials outside the confines of the examination room without permission to do

Faculty of Arts

so, or leaving answer papers exposed to view, or persistent attempts to read other students' examination papers.

3. Other academic misconduct includes, but is not limited to, tampering or attempts to tamper with examination scripts, class work, grades and/or class records; failure to abide by directions by an instructor regarding the individuality of work handed in; the acquisition, attempted acquisition, possession, and/or distribution of examination materials or information not authorized by the instructor; the impersonation of another student in an examination or other class assignment; the falsification or fabrication of clinical or laboratory reports; the non-authorized tape recording of lectures.

4. Any student who voluntarily and consciously aids another student in the commission of one of these offences is also guilty of academic misconduct.

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY AND COPYRIGHT LEGISLATION

Course materials created by instructors (including presentations and posted notes, labs, case studies, assignments and exams) remain the intellectual property of the instructor. These materials may not be reproduced, redistributed or copied without the explicit consent of the instructor. All students are required to read the University of Calgary policy on Acceptable Use of Material Protected by Copyright (<https://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/acceptable-use-of-material-protected-by-copyright.pdf>) and requirements of the Copyright Act (<https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/C-42/index.html>) to ensure they are aware of the consequences of unauthorised sharing of course materials (including instructor notes, electronic versions of textbooks etc.). Students who use material protected by copyright in violation of this policy may be disciplined under the Non-Academic Misconduct Policy.

FREEDOM OF INFORMATION AND PRIVACY (FOIP) ACT

Graded assignments will be retained by the Department for three months and subsequently sent for confidential shredding. Final examinations will be kept for one calendar year and subsequently sent for confidential shredding. Said material is exclusively available to the student and to the department staff requiring to examine it. Please see <https://www.ucalgary.ca/legalservices/foip> for complete information on the disclosure of personal records.

ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATIONS

It is the student's responsibility to request academic accommodations according to the University policies and procedures listed below. The student accommodation policy can be found at: <https://ucalgary.ca/student-services/access/prospective-students/academic-accommodations>.

Students needing an Accommodation because of a Disability or medical condition should communicate this need to Student Accessibility Services in accordance with the Procedure for Accommodations for Students with Disabilities (<https://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/procedure-for-accommodations-for-students-with-disabilities.pdf>.)

Students needing an Accommodation in relation to their coursework or to fulfil requirements for a graduate degree, based on a Protected Ground other than Disability, should communicate this need, preferably in writing, to their Instructor or the Department Head/Dean or to the designated contact person in their Faculty.
